

My work

My dream is that I'm living in another world, a world with love and harmony, a world without wars, corruption, racism... that's why I say, that I'm pregnant of a new world.

In my work the space expanded. There is also a widening of space, like a breach.

The key thread is a trace of the past emerging in another temporality.

In one movement I connect what appears and what disappears.

I am searching for a feeling of pure duration.

My work also relates to "Alice in Wonderland" and "Behind the mirrors" from Lewis Carroll.

Alice is questioning common beliefs.

From the date of 18th october twenty new paintings and ten new drawings will be added on my website (from a total number of 120 new works).

If desired, I can send you photographs of each of them by e-mail. Some of them have been painted with closed eyes.

Doris Drescher